NOTHING BUT TALK

The Way the Behring Sea Affair Will Terminate.

CHANGE OF FRONT IN ENGLAND

Farther Consideration of the Matter in the Senate Yesterday.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The senate today spent two and a half hours in further consideration of the Behring sea arbitration treaty. A vote is expected on the motion to ratify the treaty some time next week. The discussion has established a strong probability that the treaty will be ratified. The senators who opposed it as a whole are few in number and find a principal representative in Felton of California.

The most formidable opposition is made up of members who believe the treaty should be accompanied by a resolution directing the President to withhold the exchange of final ratification until Great Britain consents to renew the modus vivendi. It is represented by members of the foreign relations committee that the adoption of such a resolution would defeat the treaty, for Great Britain would never consent to be placed in the attitude of renewing the modus vivendi through fear of results.

There's another element in the senate that seeks to follow the ratification with a resolution endorsing the President's action up to this point and asserting strongly the purpose of this government to protect its property in the seal islands at all hazards. Pending arbitration this element appeared today to have gathered strength.

BLAINE ON DECK.

The seriousness of the Behring sea situation is shown by the attendence of Secretary Blaine at the cabinet meeting today, notwithstanding his recent illness. The other members were all present. Secretaries Foster and Tracy held a conference prior to the meeting, presumably in regard to orders to the naval and revenue vessels assigned to the duty of patroling the sealing grounds. It is practically settled that the warships Charleston, Baltimore, Boston, Yorktown, Adams, Ranger and Mohican and the revenue vessels Corwin, Bear, Rush and Albatross will be assigned to this duty.

It is understood that a decision was reached that the government would wait a reply from Lord Salisbury to the President's last note, that before proceeding on the assumption that the English government will not co-operate in the measure for the protection of the sealing industry.

RUSSIAN CO-OPERATION.

The navy department authorities hardly know how far to go in the line of extraordinary preparations until the international correspondence with reference to the Behring sea dispute bears a more conclusive aspect. Meanwhile, although the navy officials concede that our relations with Great Britain are decided strained, few of them in reality expect actual hostilities to arise. It is also pointed out by the naval experts that it will hardly be the policy of the department to concentrate a heavy force of vessels in Behring sea, for even if hostilities should be precipitated by the exchange of shots in those waters the war would not be fought there, but nearer home. It is rumored that the President has been given assurances by the Russian minister that the Russian government will co-operate with this government in the matter of protecting seals in Behring sea, and that four men-of-war would be added to the fleet. Six Russian ironclads are now at Vladivostock.

A CONTRADICTION.

A cabinet officer this afternoon stated there was no truth in the report that Russia had agreed to co-operate with the United States in protecting the seal herds in Behring sea.

PRESS COMMENTS.

Nothing Worse Than a Dead Lock Looked For.

[Copyright 1892 by New York Associated Press.]

LONDON, March 25.—Until the liberal leaders have examined the Behring sea correspondence, which it is promised will be made public Monday, no party action on the question will be taken, but from the drift of the correspondence as laid before the United States senate they are already determined to adopt the attitude of opposition.

A week ago the liberal leaders were inclined to support Lord Salisbury and the liberal organs took an adverse view to the position assumed by the United States. Whether it be policy that dictates the change of front or a sense of justice for the American claims, it is certain that the opposition leaders have decided to attack Salisbury, and arraign him as pursuing a needlessly vexatious course instead of assenting to the reasonable arrangement offered by the Washington government.

Lord Salisbury's reply to President Harrison's last note should have been in possession of the Washington cabinet today. Although no official statements regarding its character are obtainable the belief is that Salisbury will agree to place an embargo on the Canadians sealing in open sea, provided the United States government agrees to pay the compensation if the arbitration decision be against American claims.

The idea of an armed collision is dismissed on all sides as supremely improbable.

Gladstone's organ, the Speaker, will contain an inspired article which, after analyzing expert evidence, maintains that the renewal of the modus vivendi ought to be assented to by the British government, and continues: "Why should this government be asked to promote the success of Canadian adventurers who deliberately undertake the dangerous speculation of doubtful legality and utility to mankind. We are not going to war with the United States, not even in the interest of the federation of the empire, and pending arbitration it is unjust to refuse to continue an arrangement which is part of the conditions under which the arbitration was agreed upon."

The Unionist organ, the Spectator, advocates a settlement that will open the seas to Canadian sealers with a provision for recompense to Americans in the event the decision of the arbitrators being against Great Britain.

RUMORS OF WAR.

WARSAW, March 25.—Rumors of war fill the air here and are given an appearance of truth by the presence in Poland of immense numbers of Russian soldiers. The purpose, however, may be simply preparation for the usual spring maneuvers, but the proximity of these troops to the Prussian frontier causes a general feeling of uneasiness. The activity on the part of the Prussians across the frontier increases the anxiety. Prussian balloons have been hovering over Russian fortresses and camps, and are believed to form part of the extensive German spy system. The balloons appear to be under perfect control and indicate that a new and dangerous element has been introduced in modern warfare.

IN THE HOUSE.

The Free Coinage Fight Causes a Slim Attendance.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The free coinage fight had a demoralizing effect on the attendance in the house today and at no time during the day would the roll call develop a quorum. It was impossible to take any decisive action on this important measure. After prayer by the chaplain there were no members on their feet asking for a correction in the record and journal. Most of these were directed toward the roll call. In the records, which were incorrectly printed by the printing office, Reed of Maine made a sarcastic remark. "I am glad to notice that the multiplicity of errors which has apparently occurred in this congress is not evidence of obliquity, as it has been in some congresses." [Laughter.] The house went into a committee of the whole on the private calendar. Three hours were consumed in the consideration of the bill for the relief of personal representatives of Henry H. Sibley, the inventor of the Sibley tent, but no determination was reached. The committee having risen, the house adjourned, the evening session being dispensed with.

If Cutchings returns to Washington in time special orders may be brought in the house on Monday for the immediate consideration of the Bland silver bill and pending amendments. Bland, during the afternoon session of the house, disclosed the plan by the introduction of a resolution fixing Monday, March 28, as the date on which the bill will be taken up and put upon passage. The accompanying resolution is a provision giving the speaker power to refuse to entertain any dilatory motion. The motion went to the committee on rules in view of the extreme closeness of the vote on the silver question as decided last night.

An analysis of the tie vote on the test motion of Borrows to lay the Bland bill on the table will prove interesting. Of 148 votes in favor of the motion 82 were cast by Democrats and 66 by Republicans. The negative vote shows 11 Republicans and the other 139 were either Democrats or Alliance. Figuring in absentees according to their previously expressed ideas, an absolutely full vote shows at least 1 majority for the silver men, but a full vote is practically unknown in the house, and the silver men concede that when it comes to a very close vote they are less able than their opponents to count on every member. The situation is still less encouraging to the silver men and some men who always voted in favor of free coinage have now expressed themselves as disinclined for political reasons to further push the matter.

RIOTING SWITCHMEN

THEIR REINSTATEMENT REFUSED AND THEY OPEN FIRE.

The Police Interfere—Two of the Rioters Badly Wounded.

KENT, Ohio, March 25.—An outbreak in the nature of a riot occurred this morning, which for a time threatened serious results. Yesterday some Erie switchmen were discharged and new men put in. Last night the discharged men and their friends gathered in the yards and demanded their reinstatement, and on being refused they attacked the new men. The police interfered and quiet was restored, but after midnight they attacked the police with revolvers. The fire was returned and two of the mob were badly wounded. They then left.

G.A.R. ENCAMPMENT.

An Appeal Made for a $100,000 Appropriation.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—A message from the President transmitting a communication from the district commander, accompanied by a letter from the chairman of the executive committee of the G.A.R. encampment to be held next September, was laid before the senate today. An appeal is made for $100,000, one-half to be paid by the district for the expenses of the encampment. The President says in part: "It seems to me it would be highly appropriate for congress to suitably aid in making this demonstration impressive and extending to those soldiers whose lives beneficient providence prolonged an opportunity to see, in the security and peaceful development and prosperity which now prevails, at the national capital, the fruits of their sacrifice and valor.

A Compromise.

WINNEPEG, March 25.—The committee of engineers, to which the differences between the Canadian Pacific Railroad company and the trainmen were referred for adjustments, made a report today as follows: That $2.90 for 100 miles be offered by the company and eleven hours to constitute a day's work, overtime to be allowed after that at the rate of 25 cents per hour for conductors and 17 cents for brakemen. The finding of the committee, which is a compromise, has been accepted by both company and the men.

"The Man of Destiny."

JEFFERSON CITY, March 25.—The Missouri legislature adjourned sine die yesterday. The last act of the house was the passing of a resolution indorsing "The Man of Destiny," Grover Clevenland, for the Presidency.

The American Interests.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The United States steamer Newark has arrived at Laguayra, Venezuela, to look after the American interests during the revolution that is said to be in progress there.

Football.

ONTARIO, March 25.—The Chaffey college football eleven beat the Pomona high school today 8 to 4 in an exciting game played at Pomona.

The Pure Food Bill.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The house committee on agriculture today authorized a favorable report on the Paddock pure food bill with some amendments.

Extradition Treaty Signed.

PARIS, March 26.—The new extradition treaty between France and the United States was signed this morning.

WHAT DID HE EAT?

A Man Vomits Up a Quantity of Nails.

SULLIVAN MEANS BUSINESS

He Objects to the Articles of Agreement in His Contest With Corbett.

ST. LOUIS, March 25.—There died last night at the city hospital John W. Gorman, known in museums as James Kennedy. On March 21 he was admitted suffering from gastritis emetica, caused by the ejection of nearly half a pint of nails, screws, etc. This failing to relieve him laparotomy was performed and resulted in the removal of as much more hardware, but to no avail, for the fellow died in a short time.

At the post mortem examination the stomach walls and linings were found normal, but literally filled with nails, screws, tacks and broken glass, which the man had swallowed. None were encysted and there was not one instance of perforation in any part of the stomach or throat, but beginning from the base of the tongue back to the aesophagus and from there entirely down into the stomach nails, tacks, etc., were found. The total quantity taken from the body would fill a pint measure.

Sullivan Wants a Sure Fight.

CHICAGO, March 25.—John L. Sullivan will sign the amended articles of agreement in the Sullivan-Corbett contest. He declined to sign the articles first proposed, and returned them to the Olympic club for alteration. This was done to insure either a meeting or complete backdown on the part of Corbett. Sullivan objected to the article allowing the referee to decide the contest if, in his opinion, it became too brual, saying he wanted to be sure of a finish fight. This paragraph, therefore, was eliminated, and Sullivan will sign the articles as amended, tomorrow, and the big fight may be said to be fairly on.

A Suicide.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 25.—Henry W. Smith, a stonecutter who had been indulging in liquor for a few days past, committed suicide today by cutting his throat. Smith first made an attempt in the drawing room of his boarding house, but was ejected from the house by the landlady and a storekeeper who was attracted by their cries. Smith's strange actions on the sidewalk attracted large crowds, who followed him to a vacant lot where, before he could be seized, he had cut his throat from ear to ear, dying immediately. He was 40 years of age, and at one time worked at Spokane. Letters from a number of workmen at that place were found on his body.

An Insane Man Drowns Himself.

ALVISO, Cal., March 25.—An insane man named John Baer, sent from Ukiah to be committed at the asylum at Agnews, jumped off the train while it was in motion this morning within two miles of the asylum. Sheriff Overmich, who had him in charge, immediately stopped the train and gave chase, but Baer threw off his binding strap and part of his clothing, jumped into the water and that was the last seen of him. It is supposed he was drowned. A party from here has gone in search of the body.

The Miners Organizing.

SUTTER CREEK, March 25.—A very enthusiastic miners' meeting was held in Amador City today, and permanent organization affected. It will be an auxiliary to the one in San Francisco. This county was well represented by business men and farmers, who manifested their sympathy by enrolling their names. J. F. Parks of the Kennedy mine was chosen president and A. B. Call of the Gopher secretary.

Coming to Time.

ROME, March 25.—A movement in favor of a good Italian representation at the Chicago world's fair is rapidly forming. It is affirmed that Baron Fava will resume his duties as Italian minister at Washington soon if the question of indemnity of the New Orleans affair is arranged.

Reciprocity Declined.

LONDON, March 25.—The Times, Buenos Ayres, correspondent says: "The government has been obliged to decline Mr. Blaine's special reciprocity proposal.

CHICAGO'S BOODLERS.

Their Investigations Yesterday End In a Row.

CHICAGO, March 25.—Today's session of the grand jury, investigating the boodlers, broke up in disorder, without finding any additional indictments. The rock causing the split was questions of the indictment of Secretary Soule of the Jefferson electric road, who was wanted as a witness, but who has absented himself from the city. The discussion ended in a row. It is rumored that a member of the jury was caught making full notes of the testimony of one of the witnesses, and was accused of doing so for improper purposes.

An adjournment was taken because, under the circumstances, no further business was possible. Another effort will be made tomorrow to carry on the investigation. It has been apparent for the last several days that quite serious difference had arisen between the state's attorney, Longnecker, and the co-operation of persons conducting the investigation. In a long interview the state's attorney intimated his intention to conduct the inquiry according to his own notions, and not force indictments which in his view were unwarranted. Other parties interested in the investigation deemed it advisable to take the course to which he was known to be opposed, and place the investigation in the hands of a special grand jury.

Light Sentence for Gordon.

SACRAMENTO, March 25.—Judge Van Fleet this afternoon sentenced Harry Gordon to fourteen years imprisonment at Folsom, he having been convicted of participating in the murder of Robert Allen last May. The sentence of J. D. Smith, the chief conspirator, heretofore convicted of murder in the first degree, was postponed until next Friday, when he will be sent up for life. Gordon got off lightly because he was a witness for the state.

Late this afternoon Judge Van Fleet decided to admit George Smith, held for the murder of Pat Brannigan on March 8 to bail in the sum of $10,000.

Blew His Head Off.

REDWOOD CITY, March 25.—A. C. Madsen, a Danish saloon keeper, 49 years old, committed suicide by blowing his head off with a shotgun loaded with buckshot. The entire right side of his face and head was carried away. He was a widower with four little children, and a member of the Workmen and Odd Fellows lodges.

Mill Burned.

SAN ANDREAS, Cal., March 25.—The mill and hoisting works of the Union Shaft Mining company, on Central hill, about three miles west of this place, was destroyed by fire last night. The estimated loss is $10,000. The cause of the fire is supposed to be incendiarism.

Insane Broker.

NEW YORK, March 25.—Edward M. Field, the insane broker, was transferred tonight from Ludlow street jail to the state insane asylum at Buffalo. He was placed in the institution for an extended examination.

STILL THEY TALK.

ANOTHER DAY IN THE BIG SCANDAL.

Messrs. Fox and Millbank Tell Their Little Stories to the Papers.

NEW YORK, March 25.—It is learned that Edward Fox of London is the person who made public the dual correspondence in the Drayton-Borrowe scandal. A World's London special says: Fox declares that the statement of the affair he cabled to the New York papers was edited by Borrowe and Millbank, and that nothing with which they were not cognisant was made public. Fox claimed that the correspondence as published told the entire story, and nothing further could happen unless Drayton persists in his intention to sue for a divorce in America, in which case they would permit Borrowe to fight him.

To a Herald reporter tonight Millbank said Fox's statement was false.

Railroad Men at Stockton.

STOCKTON, March 25.—C. E. Eriz, organizer of the new California Midland Railroad company, is here, accompanied by V. J. Bogue, chief engineer of the Union Pacific road for many years. The visitors are making inquiries about the volume of business transacted in Stockton and the extent of the wheat traffic. The proposed road is to run from Sacramento to Visalia and Bakersfield via Stockton.

Why

So Anxiously Concerned?

The prestige of the Royal Baking Powder and its constant success are matters of anxious concern to envious competitors.

It is noted that advertisements of other baking powders are filled with spleen, malice and misrepresentation against the Royal, more than with honest claims as to their own goods.

That the Royal Baking Powder makes finer, whiter, sweeter, more wholesome cookery, the ladies who have tried other kinds are willing to testify and tell their neighbors; this fact is a serious concern to all competitors.

The superb quality of the Royal Baking Powder, over and above all other kinds, is never so manifest as when tried in comparison. It has greater strength and does not deteriorate with age, the last spoonful in the can being as good as the first. All over this country the "Royal" has the lead; this is why makers of other brands, envious of its sale and popularity, talk so much about it,

WHAT THEY ARE DOING.

What have the abused Triangle done that they should be hounded and traduced by a partisan newspaper? ask the organs of that remarkable combination of political schemers.

The outrage which they last night perpetrated upon the decent Democratic citizens of the First ward, and upon the fair name of the city of Fresno, at the meeting called for the formation of a political club in that ward, is a fair sample of what they are doing that should call down upon them the execration of every honest citizen, of every lover of fair play, of every believer in decent politics, we care not what his political creed may be nor how faithfully he may cherish it.

The first ward of this city is located entirely in a residence district, composed of the better element of the city. There is not a saloon in the ward. There is no place where the disreputable element congregates. Notwithstanding this fact when the citizens and voters of the ward arrived at the place assigned for the meeting last night they found the hall in the possession of a gang from the fifth ward, headed by the notorious Billy Levinson, and absolutely under the control of the Triangle and the politicians who are under contract to furnish the brains for that official combination. Not a dozen residents of the ward secured admission to the hall, and those who did not leave were unable to get out through the mass of intimidators which had invaded the meeting.

Stating the case briefly, the honest, respectable Democratic citizens of the ward were crowded and bullied out of their own meeting by a gang of toughs under the leadership of a notorious vagrant. And this entire shameless proceeding was for no other purpose than to prevent the election of Judge Firman Church as president of the club, because he has had the independence and courage to oppose the disreputable scheming of the Triangle and the politicians that they are serving.

Perhaps the organs of the Triangle will now have the brazen effrontry to justify this outrage on the honorable members of their own party. It is not improbable. When things have come to such a pass in the city of Fresno that reputable citizens and taxpayers are crowded out of a public meeting by bullies and toughs, it is not at all improbable that newspapers will be found to condone the shameless proceeding. If so the greater the shame, the more deplorable the situation. The more urgent the demand that law-abiding people unite in opposition to bulldozing and intimidation.

The California Midland Railway company is the very latest organization proposing to construct a railway through this valley which will be a competitor of the Southern Pacific. The time was when any proposition of this kind would have been hailed with enthusiasm by the monopoly ridden people of this valley, but their enthusiasm has been kindled so often by glowing but false promises that they now observe the advent of a new railroad enterprise with feelings closely akin to indifference. According to a statement of one Charles E. Ertz of the new railroad company, a road is to be speedily constructed from Sacramento to Bakersfield with a branch from Stockton to Antioch, and that upon the completion of that road another line will be constructed from San Francisco through the Santa Clara valley to a connection with the road in this valley. When these lines are completed Mr. Ertz says that the company will be ready to build to Denver and make its transcontinental connections there. This gentleman further says that $7,000,000 has been guaranteed by New York and Boston capitalists for the building of this road, and that the 10 per cent on $1000 per mile required by the state law has been paid. The actual work of construction is to begin not later than June next. The Republican hopes that all this is true, but will patiently wait for further developments before wasting any considerable amount of ink in jubilating over the matter.

Our 'steemed evening contemporary is entirely felicitious in commenting upon the attitude of President Eliot of Harvard University on the Presidential question. He introduces him on a high plane of superiority, as though he were the bell-wether of the Mugwump herd with sufficient intellectual force to command the intelligent wing of the recalcitrant voters on a free trade basis. No doubt Mr. Eliot will draw like a flaxseed poultice and extract all the corruption out of the body politic, and if he only applies this virtue with sufficient energy to make Grover Cleveland the nominee of the Democracy he will receive the thanks of the Republican party. The Republicans can depend on Tammany and Hill to do the rest.

The railroad rate war between the transcontinental roads is imminent. The Republican expressed a fervent hope that this thing would happen some time ago, but it has been deferred so long that little benefit will follow if it does occur. Eastern people desire to come to California during the winter and spring, and a reduction of rates now will bring comparatively few people to the coast—few more, indeed, that would be likely to go the other way. If this probable rate war had commenced sixty days ago, it would have resulted in bringing many thousands of people to the coast.

The Republican is sorry for Justice Crichton. He was simply unable to withstand the pressure brought to bear upon him. There was never a more reluctant enemy of decent politics than the judge. But he has made a fatal mistake.

A Tulare man advertises a horse for sale and assures intending purchasers that it "will either ride or drive." The kind hearted man who wants so accomplished an animal will probably not put in an appearance until the circus comes along.

The New York 150 will crawl into their shell a little further now that one of their number has sustained an abrasion of character. It is singularly unfortunate that one member of the Astor family should get caught at it?

What does Chairman Butler of the Democratic county central committee think of the Triangle now? It will be a rather difficult matter to bring the committee up to the indorsing point after last night's disgrace.

How do Justice Crichton and Recorder Laning enjoy the honor of being the president and secretary of a ward club organized by a gang of bulldozers who are non-residents of the ward?

Talk about trailling the robes of justice in the dust! Dust is clean as polished marble compared to political sewage.

It is simply sickening. That is the way last night's outrage was described by a well-known Democrat.

DISGRACEFUL.

The Chinatown Squad Capture the First Ward.

JUDGE CRICHTON WAS IN IT

Rather Than Be Rolled Over a Barrel He Consented to Join the Triangle.

The Triangle, the representatives of the politically criminal element of this city, placed themselves on record last night as the representatives of the hoodlums and macquereaux, who at present are largely among those who control the machinery of the Democratic party of this city.

It was announced several days ago that a meeting of Democrats of the First ward would be held last night for the purpose of organizing a First ward Democratic club. With honest Democrats this announcement had no weight other than a matter of news, and those who were voters of the First ward expressed themselves as very well pleased that an organization was to be effected.

BEHIND THE VEIL.

But there was something behind the veil that honest Democrats could not discern. It was generally conceded that Firman Church, councilman from the first ward, would be the temporary chairman of the meeting and that the voters of the first ward would select him as the president of the club on the permanent organization.

But the Triangle, the symbol of everything that is corrupt, unfair and venal in politics do not like Mr. Church because he has opposed their jobs in the council, and it was observed during the past two or three days that there was great agitation in Fahey's saloon in the fourth ward and in Dan Maloney's and Mollie Livingston's palace in the fifth ward. Mr. Church was the innocent cause of all this agitation and the agitation was merely a symptom of the efforts made to beat him and to install in his stead some one who could be depended upon as an obedient servant of the Triangle.

CHINATOWN IN IT.

Dan Maloney and Billy Levison, the boss macquereaux of the Fifth ward, worked like beavers to prevent Judge Church from presiding over the political destinies of the club. Mollie Livingstone herself was not idle, for she, like the railroad monopoly, cannot afford to keep out of politics. She owns twenty-five or thirty houses in Chinatown from which she derives a rental of more than $1000 a month in violation of the law, and it is absolutely necessary that she should maintain her political influence, in order to stave off police interference and to evade the law punishing landlords and landladies who rent houses for immoral purposes.

THE LIEUTENANTS.

The first thing to be done by the Triangle in order to capture the meeting was to organize a band of toughs carefully selected from the Third, Fourth and Fifth wards. This was an easy matter. Fahey could be depended upon for the Fourth, Alford for the Third and Dan Maloney, Mollie Livingston and Bill Levison were sure to be on hand with a sufficient number of the macquereau element to fill the hall and crowd out the honest voters of the First ward.

The next thing on the program was the selection of a slate president of the club. Justice of the Peace Crichton was found to be the most prominent and easily handled man for the purposes of the Triangle.

BETWEEN TWO FIRES.

Crichton was between two fires. If he should refuse to enter into the rascally combination he would offend the Triangle and the rest of the bosses, and if he agreed to do the bidding of the Triangle the honest Democrats of this city would remember him on election day.

It is reported, and if the report is not true Judge Crichton will be set right in the matter at the first opportunity, that when the proposition was broached to him he begged to be excused, and declared that his acceptance of the dubious honor would be his political death. But certain representations were made to him in a loud tone of voice that induced him to sacrifice himself in the future for the pleasure of wearing the crown in the present.

OVER THE BARREL.

When City Attorney Terry was on his way to Judge Crichton's office he was in a white heat. Someone had told him that Crichton's backbone was weakening, whereupon he exclaimed loud enough to be heard by Jesse Church and others:

"He's got to accept. If he doesn't we'll roll him over a barrel."

Whatever this mystic phrase may have meant, whatever suggestion of torture or degradation it may have seemed to imply can be understood only by those who are conversant with the vernacular of the Triangle, but it seemed to be perfectly understood by Crichton for he appeared at the meeting and accepted the doubtful honor that was thrust upon him as he lay upon the political barrel.

Several hours before the meeting was to take place Crichton was approached by a large number of decent Democrats of the first ward and he promised that he would not call the meeting to order before 8 o'clock, the time announced. It unfortunately happened that he gave his promise before he had consulted the Triangle, for at 7.30 o'clock when the reputable Democrats of the ward went to Quimby's hall they found it crammed with the rabble of the Triangle scraped up from the gutters of the Democracy of the whole city.

CHOICE SPIRITS.

The first to arrive were Billy Levison and a gang of twenty-five from the fifth ward, and then came P. LeBlanc, candidate for constable, John A. Barker, ex-city marshal, Boss Senator Goucher of the Yosemite commission fame, Terry, right angle and adviser of the Triangle, Boss Fahey with a Front street gang of political strikers, Recorder Laning with two or three adherents and a score of the rag tag and bobtail of pothouse politicians.

E. D. Edwards was there also with a superior judgeship squint in his left eye, W. G. Barnum, president of the fifth ward club, the deadly rival of Dan Maloney, and Billy Levison for the bossship of that ward was also on hand.

Bart Alford brought up the rear, proudly bearing a gold triangle on his breast. He, like Fahey, is a candidate for the office of sheriff.

IN THE WRONG BOX.

When Judge Church, L. B. McWhirter and a few other first ward Democrats made their appearance they managed to squeeze their way half through the crowd, but when they saw what kind of a gang was there they thought they had made a mistake and strayed into Chinatown, so mechanically clutching their pocketbooks they edged back out of the crowd and went down town.

One man who passed by took a police whistle from his pocket and blew it loudly, but there was no response and he ran away at full speed.

Judge Crichton very pale and ill at ease took the chair and announced the object of the meeting amid cheers. He was interrupted only once and that was by Billy Levison, who issued the command:

"Take off your hats, you sons of guns!"

His order was instantly obeyed and after that the greatest harmony prevailed.

Judge Crichton was named as president pro tem., and a Democrat with brazen audacity named Firman Church. The name was received with groans and hisses.

Frank Laning, the city recorder, was nominated for temporary chairman.

A committee on permanent organization was appointed forthwith, and the chairman of the committee immediately reported the slate that had been made up that afternoon in Fahey's saloon. The report was adopted unanimously and Judge Crichton with a-roll-over-the-barrel-air and Recorder Laning were confirmed as president and secretary by the unanimous votes of the fourth and fifth ward representatives present.

The committee defined the objects of the club as the securing of a signal victory of the principles of the Democratic party, "which we sincerely believe is the only party of the people." This bold declaration of principle was greeted with a loud outburst by the Chinatown contingent.

The slate having been carried through without any friction by the votes of the Fahey and Levison wards, City Attorney Terry was called upon for a speech.

Mr. Terry spoke in a felicitous vein. He was glad, he said, of the opportunity to keep out of the First Ward club a renegade who had been in the habit of carrying dispatches to THE REPUBLICAN. He added that all renegade Democrats should be kicked out of the party. He did not clearly define what he meant by renegades, but the crowd took it that he meant renegades to the city Triangle, and they howled with delight.

Then Mr. Terry referred to the silver question and the silver tongue of Tom Fitch (a laweyr like himself), "because the man who has the most silver has the most use of Fitch's tongue." [More howls from the Chinatown squad.]

"Why, gentlemen," added Mr. Terry with virtuous indignation, "Tom Fitch said once, 'if we Republicans get into office we will dispose of the question of the surplus in the national treasury; we will blow it in.'"

"Hurray!" yelled a Fifth ward man. The expression "blow it in" touched him in a tender spot.

VETERANS INSULTED.

"You Doc Bedford," continued Mr. Terry, "when you put on that pretty vest; you Mr. Levison (here Mr. Terry gagged a little) when you wear that dandy coat, and you Mr. Mills of the Expositor when you put on that pretty necktie have to pay tribute to the Republican tariff, to subsidize corporations and to put fellows on the pension list who were never in sight of the war, but who belonged to the diarrhoea brigade as soon as the war got anywhere near them."

Fahey slapped his leg and shouted with laughter at this insult to the veterans who had preserved the Union from the assaults of the enemy. Mr. Goucher smiled approval and Bart Alford winked at his friends.

"By G—d he's a dandy!" cried an admirer.

"You bet he is," assented Fahey, as the crowd filed out of the door, convinced that the Triangle had captured the Democratic organization of this city.

ANOTHER CLUB TO BE FORMED.

But the end is not yet. The decent Democrats of the First ward, of whom only five were present last night, intend to form a club whose membership shall be restricted to voters of the First ward and they will take effective precautions to exclude the Fahey and Levison gangs.

A score of First ward Democrats called at THE REPUBLICAN editorial rooms last night and said that they repudiated the meeting and all that had been done therein. Three voters who had signed the roll desired it to be said that they did so under the impression that it was a First ward meeting. They asked THE REPUBLICAN to say that they washed their hands of the whole disgraceful affair, and that they would not conset to ally themselves even in politics with the macquereau element.

RAISING THE FLAG

AT THE FRESNO COLONY SCHOOL HOUSE.

A Highly Interesting Program Rendered by the Pupils—Fresno Visitors.

It was "Flag Day" at Fresno colony school yesterday and if patriotism may be measured by the height of flag pole, the size of flag and the number of people gathered, then that district will claim the prize for true devotion to her government and her public schools.

The patrons of the school were out in full force, besides some of Fresno city's best people, among whom were Dr. C. A. Rowell, Superintendent T. J. Kirk and the Misses Gertrude Rowell and Minnie Sledge of Fresno city schools.

The flag pole, including the ball, measures seventy-four feet, all in one stick, which came from Oregon in its native state. The flag, ten feet by sixteen, came from Chicago and was much admired for it beauty and brightness of color.

At the hour for opening the school room was filled to overflowing, and as the exercises progressed the visitors came crowding in till all that could be done was but to let the overflow file out into an adjoining room and make the best of the situation.

After a welcome by the principal, Charles E. Taylor, the exercises were begun with prayer by Trustee C. B. Kemble. Then came the unveiling of the flag by four girls. The banner was gracefully hung across the front of the building and beautifully decked with flowers and ribbons.

Then followed exercises, consisting of recitations, songs, quotations, etc., by pupils, which were of an unusually high order. All of the exercises pertained to the flag, of which the girls and boys seemed very proud.

The last thing on the program was a flag drill by eight boys and eight girls. This was of such excellence that no sooner was it finished than a desire burst forth from all parts of the house to have it repeated. Mr. Taylor and his sixteen pupils deserve extra praise for this beautiful drill. Miss Pratt, the primary teacher, showed good drill in her pupils.

Superintendent Kirk came to the front and in a short address brought out the significance of the flag as the emblem of our country, and impressed upon the audience the good that would result from training our boys and girls to love our flag and country.

Dr. Rowell also spoke, and when he came forward and turned to the Stars and Stripes, he fairly filled the audience and the very air itself with patriotism. He was just in his element when talking about "Old Glory," and he gave the little ones such good words and imbued them with so much patriotism that the effect will never be forgotten. He told them to love their flag and their country and by so doing they would become better members of society.

The pupils then marched to the play ground to unfurl the flag. Captain Starratt showed his skill by sending the flag up the mast in regular old sailor style. After this two little tots, Bulah Bell and Harry Ewing, assisted by Maggie Kemble and Roy Wharton, unfurled the banner, which floated out so grandly on the breeze that the flag seemed indeed to glory in itself.

After a rousing three cheers for the banner all went home feeling that the influence of the day would never be lost.

The teachers deserve and have the praise of all present for their successful efforts.

THE BEEVERS CASE.

Testimony All in for the Prosecution.

A LARGE CROWD IN COURT

Touching Farewell Letter from Clara Beevers to Her Husband.

The trial of the Beevers case was resumed in Judge Holmes' court yesterday morning. The court overruled the objection made yesterday afternoon to the question as to why the witness, Clara Beevers, now wished to see the defendant convicted, upon which she answered as follows:

"In Madera, three days after we were married, in our room at the hotel the defendant told me that he had lived four years with a woman as man and wife, and had one child, and he had a photograph of the child. I at once left the room in disgust, and from that time to this I never have wished to live with him, and wanted to see him convicted."

Here the following letter written by witness to Beevers was introduced:

> "FRESNO FLATS
> "JOHNNIE
>
> "I have come to the conclusion I have done rong and cannot brake my mother heart and Father for you I will hafto to give you up for my poor presance sake and my love is no more for you.
>
> "from CLARA."

In the cross-examination the witness denied that the defendant had said that the woman with whom he had been living was not his wife, or that she knew about it before she married Beevers.

By stipulation B. F. Merritt, constable at Fresno Flats, was put on the stand for the defendant, it being necessary for him to go home to attend to his official duties.

He testified he heard Clara Beevers say that she was 18 years old, and they could do nothing with John. This was after the marriage. On the road to Fresno Flats she said: "If he goes to jail I will go with him and stay with him as long as I can."

The counsel for the prosecution here asked that the father of the defendant be excluded from the court room with the other witnesses. It was claimed for Mr. Beevers that he was not a witness and his absence from the court room was therefore not necessary. The argument between the council of both sides resulted in Mr. Beevers being sworn and excluded.

Mrs. Alvina E. Bates, mother of Mrs. Clara Beevers, succeeded her daughter on the stand. She testified in regard to the record in the family Bible about Clara's age. It was elicited that the Bible in which the girl's birth is entered is not the original one, but a copy. The Bible with the original record was lost in Lake Tulare during an overflow.

At the afternoon session Lou J. Beevers, alleged wife No. 1 of the defendant, was put on the stand. She said she was living at Hollister, where about six years ago she met the defendant.

"Were you ever his wife?" asked the attorney for the prosecution.

Mr. Short, attorney for the defense, was on his feet in a moment, and objected to the question on several grounds. A prolonged argument followed, in which W. R. Jacobs spoke as to the law in the case.

The court ruled that the testimony of the witness was not admissible, and she was excused.

George Bates, father of Clara, then went on the stand. His testimony was to the effect that Clara was but 16 years old, and that he had never given his consent for her to marry Beevers.

Mrs. William Robinson, the next witness, testified to defendant's having been invited to attend the celebration of the fifteenth birthday of Clara Bates. The prosecution here rested.

Attorney Frank H. Short made the opening statement for the defense, after which S. P. Hensley was put on the stand as their first witness.

Hensley stated that after Beevers was arrested he was placed in his, witness', charge. Clara, defendant's wife, asked witness what he supposed would be done with Beevers. Witness answered he did not know, upon which the girl remarked she didn't see what they could do with him, for she was eighteen years old when she married him, having been born on January 3, 1874.

John Mullins testified that he had heard the girl state she was eighteen years of age. On cross-examination Attorney Jacobs asked witness whether it was not understood that the girl was to give her age as eighteen years in order to save Beevers from the law. Mullins answered yes.

On redirect Mullins took the back track and stated that he did not mean to say what he did. He had not understood the question.

The court then adjourned until this morning.

A VICIOUS STALLION.

Narrow Escape of a Stable Chambermaid From Mutilation.

S. Burnett, a stable chambermaid in the employ of E. T. Tyler of Easton, was badly hurt by a vicious horse. Mr. Burnett was currycombing the stallion Tigo (for further particulars see the advertising column) and Tigo being a little off his feed seized the chambermaid by the collar and shook the last remnant of ague out of him.

Mr. Tyler who was present seized a pitchfork and plunged its tines into Tige's head in order to divert his attention. The ruse proved eminently successful and the stallion let go his hold and appeared to be very much disappointed.

Tigo is 14 years old and alwas borye a good reputation for gentleness. Hence his fall from grace is a mystery. The chambermaid may have stepped on his favorite corn, or it may have been a case of Second Ward Democrats Form a Temporary Organization.

The meeting last night of the Democrats in the Second ward for the purpose of organizing a club was a very brief one. Some of those who attended wanted to see the fun in the first and the proceedings were rushed to a close.

S. H. Cole called the meeting to order stating the purpose of the same—the organization of a ward club.

W. M. Hughes was elected temporary chairman and thanked the meeting briefly for the honor they had conferred upon him. W. R. Jacobs was elected secretary. About twenty-five persons signed the membership roll.

It was decided to postpone the permanent organization of the club until next Tuesday evening, and in the mean time the chair appointed a committee to whoop things up. The committee consists of G. G. Goucher, W. R. Jacobs, J. M. Hensley, J. W. Coffman and T. A. Bell.

The meeting then adjourned and quite a number of the second ward Democrats visited the meeting of alleged Frst ward Democrats.

Tomorrow night General Muller, Colonel Woodworth and Major Eggers will leave for San Francisco to be present at a meeting of the officers of the N.G.C.

The purpose of the meeting is to discuss the advisability of holding a division encampment this year.

No division encampment has been held for several years and it is believed that the time has come again for one. It would be beneficial to the guard in many ways, and there is some probability that one will be had.

The representatives from this portion of the state are understood to be in favor of a division encampment and a similar feeling is said to prevail elsewhere.

If a division encampment is held it will probably occur near Alameda. Many of the boys have grown tired of Santa Cruz.

A BAD PUG.

He Steals His Trainer's Socks and Levants.

Later reports concerning Young Choynski's arrest put the pugilist in an altogether different light.

It seems that he was not arrested for jumping his board bill, but for stealing some money and clothes belonging to his trainer, Tom Wilson, leaving the latter at Madera penniless and without a change of clothing.

Choynski, it is said, was not without money, as he had been paid the loser's end of the purse, which was $50. The Madera Athletic club also paid his board bills. The theft, therefore, seems to be a piece of pure rascality for which the club proposes to see that he receives condign punishment.

BAYLY SCORES ONE.

A Charge of Embezzlement Against Him Dismissed.

J. M. Bayly, the alleged forger, was examined before Justice of the Peace Prince yesterday on a charge of having embezzled $5 from James Van Kleeck. The evidence showed that Van Kleeck was drunk when he gave the money to Bayly. Van Kleeck swore that he gave the money to Bayly for safe keeping until he got over his spree which he expected would terminate on the next morning.

Bayly testified that he borrowed the coin from Van Kleeck and intended to return it the next day, but he was arrested for forgery and therefore unable to redeem his promise.

Owing to the conflict in the evidence the case was dismissed.

Young Lindstrum.

Charles Lindstrum, the boy who was arrested a few evenings ago for defiantly and blasphemously smoking a cigarette in the hall of the Salvation Army while the exercises were going on, was discharged by Judge Prince. The army relented at the last hour and declined to prosecute the boy, who was guilty of impoliteness rather than of a desire to be troublesome. An impression has gone abroad that he was a member of the Lindrose family of Washington colony. While a Lindrose or any other kind of rose would scent as sweet as any other name, the prisoner was not at all related to the Lindrose family. He is a Lindstrum, and the Lindstrums must bear the burden of the paternal spanking reported to have been given to the cigarette smoking boy.

Hayden Fined Forty Dollars.

Charles Hayden, the man who stole the freshly washed underclothing of a fellow lodger, paid a fine of $40 in Justice of the Peace Prince's court yesterday, he having been found guilty.

THE GREAT MONOPOLY

A Method Whereby It May Be Crippled.

SOME TWO FACED OPPONENTS

A Big Step in Advance Would be the Abolition of the Corrupt Railroad Commission.

The Herald of Trade, the organ of San Francisco's commerce says:

"The monopolies have gone too far. The lines have never been so sharply drawn as they are today. The time is at hand when there will be no neutral ground. One must be either for or against the monopolies clear through. We are of the opinion that the host of monopoly ridden farmers, merchants, fruit growers, laborers and taxpayers generally can be solidly arrayed against all the monopolies. We think the Traffic association is too slow for these times. There ought to be drafted a formal expression of indignation for presentation to the great railroad manager on his arrival here a day or two hence. He should be advised that his henchmen, with or without the advice and encouragement of their master have set themselves above the law. He should be told that in such cases as these in the United States the people take the remedy in their own hands and sustain the law even at the peril of bloodshed and the destruction of every barrier interposed.

"It would be a wise and temperate course then to take the Transcontinental association and all its members into the United States court at once and compel it to state the terms of its existence. As we understand the situation, a very little need be said beyond the showing of the existence of a freight combination. An order will then be given which will break the freight monopoly and restore to shippers the advantages of an open competition.

"Should the railroad companies attempt evasion of the orders of the court, as they have done repeatedly in other cases, then the people ought to take the matter in their own hands. It would then be in order to tear up the tracks at their entrance into this state, revoke all privileges the law breakers have enjoyed within the state and make all railroad properties illegally acquired and illegally held absolutely valueless to the railroad companies, by preventing their use for railroad purposes. They would then be glad to surrender what shadow of title they might retain. The state could acquire by purchase any and all rights of way into California and throw them open to the traffic of the whole world."

THE RED MEN

Give Distinguished Visitors a Grand Reception.

Frederick Brandt, grand sachem of the order of Red Men, J. W. Maher, great chief of records, and S. Gambinett, great junior sagamore, arrived last evening from San Francisco on a fraternal visit to their brethren in this city.

In the evening there was a meeting of the local tribes in Edgerly hall and fourteen new members were initiated by Wahtuke tribe No. 63.

After the usual ceremonies a banquet was served in the wigwam in honor of the noble visitors. Speeches were made and toasts drank, and the braves made a valorous onslaught on the appetizing viands. A very jolly time was had.

This evening the visitors from San Francisco and about seventy bucks will go to Sanger where a tribe with forty-six charter members will be organized. The Flumeopolitans will give the visitors a cordial reception.

The Horticulturists.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 25. — The state board of horticulture met this afternoon and the following gentlemen were elected members: S. A. Earle, N. P. Batchelder, C. W. Sawyer, and P. W. Butler. B. N. Rowley, chairman of the society's delegates, submitted the report of the Fresno fruit growers at a meeting held last month.

Leonard Coates, E. W. Mastin and E. J. Wickson were appointed a committee to collect fruit for an exhibition beginning in May in London.

The by-laws of the society were amended so that members may be elected at meetings when their names are proposed instead of waiting until the following meeting.

A discussion came up regarding a better method for shipping growing trees to the Chicago world's fair, resulting in the conclusion that boxes of uneven size might be used instead of regulation sized ones, as was suggested by some of the members.

On Tuesday evening next the great great Swedish dialect comedy will be the attraction at the Barton. A SENSIBLE CHURCH.

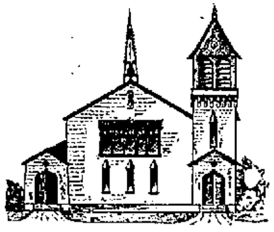
Audience Room and Sunday School Room Conveniently Arranged.

[Copyright, 1892, by American Press Association.]

Church buildings were hampered both in plan and arrangement until a few years ago because of the influence of cathedral architecture. It is difficult to get away from old models. In England and on the Continent we yet find Protestant churches which in plan are in some respects allied to the cathedrals. While nothing can be more beautiful, more satisfactory or better suited to the requirements of the Catholic service, no arrangement is more unsuited to the requirements of the Protestant service than that which belongs to the cathedral. The influence of Protestant architecture is not greatly felt in England. The growing tendency of Americans to work from a rational standpoint, and to not be blindly influenced by precedent in any line, has made itself felt in Protestant architecture. The arrangement which will best conserve the requirements of hearing and seeing, and at the same time preserve some of the characteristics of religious architecture, is the only one which we may expect will find favor with our people.

The plan here given is of a church so arranged that the main audience room and the Sunday school room may be connected. This plan is worked out with the idea that there should be no compromises in arrangement because of this connection. The effort is made to devise a Sunday school room which is as satisfactory as possible for that purpose; also an audience room which, in itself, will meet all of the conditions necessary to hearing and seeing. The connection between the two is a separate problem, with a purpose of uniting an ideal Sunday school room and an ideal audience room in an ideal way. It is the business of those interested to find out whether or not this has been accomplished.



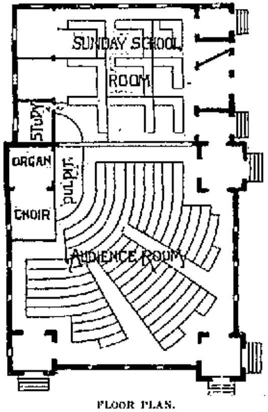
FRONT ELEVATION.

The pulpit or rostrum is in the corner of the audience room nearest the Sunday school room. This is the best possible location for the pulpit in the audience room, and it is also the one from which those in the Sunday school room may see and hear what goes on in the audience room. The difficulty in an arrangement of this kind has always been found in the connection between the two rooms. Anything going on in the Sunday school room may be heard in the audience room, or vice versa, even when the doors are closed. This can be avoided by the use of double panels which drop through the floor to the basement. If the basement receptacle be pocketed, there is no disadvantage in this plan. If preferred, the doors may be raised into a pocket above.

It is necessary that these screens should be framed in one piece and be elevated or lowered with shaft and gearing which drops both ends the same distance at the same time. There are various ways of doing this, as any machinist will understand. It may be accomplished by a chain belt at each end, connected with properly arranged gearing and shafting, or by means of two doubled threaded screws at each end, connected in the same way. There must be a single source of power, which may be in the form of a crank in a convenient location or some other ordinary method. By this means a screen heavy enough and solid enough may be used so that it appears to be a part of the architecture of the church and not a mere arrangement of light, flimsy doors.

The audience room seats radiate from the location of the pulpit. They descend from the outside of the room toward it. The rostrum may thus be low and all people in the room may see and hear well. The Sunday school room seats descend in the same way by steps. The audience room walls and ceiling should be of thin boards, say half an inch thick, properly applied in decorative forms. The wood work on the walls should be set out one-half inch from the walls themselves, in case the church be built of brick. In event of its being a frame structure, as shown in this plan, it could be applied directly to the studding.

An arrangement of this kind makes the acoustic properties of any room as nearly perfect as possible. A room surrounded by a brick wall, which is plastered directly onto the brick work or which is plastered at all, is about the worst possible arrangement with reference to acoustics. The hardness and nonabsorbent qualities of brick or plaster are unfavorable to hearing. If the wall could be lined with canvas it would be yet better than wood, especially if the canvas were suspended a short distance from the wall.



FLOOR PLAN.

The seats of the Sunday school room are arranged so that each class has the best possible accommodation for its work. The pupils practically surround the teacher, who is near to all of them. The general plan of both audience and Sunday school room practically means an arrangement of people in circles. Classrooms are shown in connection with the Sunday school room.

While this building is shown in wood and for a moderate sized church, the idea is plastic and may be made to conserve for a larger or smaller structure and any material of which a church may be built. The price will vary according to the material of which the structure is built.

A RICH BIT OF OLD HORSE

Baggage Containing a Fortune on Paper Sold at Auction.

DENVER, March 25.—The finding of valuable bonds and deeds in the baggage of Colonel Henry Altman has recalled to D. J. Speane, a lumber merchant at Crested Butte, the fact that he was formerly well acquainted with him. Mr. Speane first met the colonel in 1879, at which time he was engaged in extensive mining and railroad operations. He afterward lost heavily in the Denver City mine at Leadville, but Mr. Speane thinks he is living obscurely somewhere.

This view was subsequently confirmed by Colonel John Williams of Denver, who passes the greater portion of his time in New York. He says he knew Altman well, and that he saw him on Broadway within two weeks. Altman was then in an impecunious condition.

The baggage, which was auctioned off by the Denver & Rio Grande railroad, contained stock in Pennsylvania oil property believed to be worth $100,000, besides 7000 shares in the Pennsylvania Oil company, and some Nevada mine deeds.

Treacherous Quicksands.

ATLANTA CITY, N. J., March 25.—Recent heavy storms along the coast have caused the formation of innumerable beds of quicksand, which seriously imperil the unwary people. The wife and three children of ex-Mayor Gilpin of this city were engulfed while out riding this afternoon, and rescued from one of the traps of shifting sand just as the tide was rising, and each succeeding wave threatening to destroy them. The horse was saved by means of a tackle floated out on a boat. The carriage was lost.

Deadly Gasoline.

ADRIAN, Mich., March 25.—By the explosion of a gasoline stove today Mrs. Henry Lords and two little children were fatally burned.
